Immigration Report of 1851

From the British Parliamentary Papers, 1852 XXXIII (1474)

Government House, Toronto,
September 9, 1851.

From the 1st to the 31st of August.

Note.-5,459 emigrants arrived during the month of August, and, with the exception of on board three vessels, they all landed in good health. The deaths on the passage were 46, viz., 9 adults and 37 children; 18 of which occurred on board the "Abbeylands," from Liverpool, 7 on the "Jamaica," from Glasgow, 6 on the "Laura Campbell," from Limerick, and 6 on the "Ellen," from Liverpool. The diseases most prevalent were measles and small-pox.

Of the whole number, 3,452 emigrated voluntarily, and 2,007 were sent out by landlords and by parish unions; 1,565 were Scotch (Highlanders), 359 Irish, and 83 English.

Of those from Scotland, 725 were sent out by Colonel Gordon from South Uist, in the ships "Brooksby" and "Montezuma," who provided them with a free passage and provisions to this port; the party consisting of 215 adults, 222 females, and 288 children. From the information received from the masters of the vessels and from the people themselves, it appears they were entirely destitute of money or provisions; but few of the men could speak English; and, as they were all desirous of proceeding to the western part of Upper Canada, they were forwarded direct to Hamilton at the expense of the Emigrant Fund. On board the "Conrad" and "Birman" were 518 persons, from Mull and Tyree, sent out by his Grace the Duke of Argyle, who provided them with a free passage to Montreal, where, on arrival, as they presented the same appearance of destitution as those from South Uist, they were all sent free to Hamilton. On board the "Birman" were 50 souls, the last of Sir James Matheson's party from Lewis, who were all well provided for and forwarded to their destination (Lingwick, eastern townships,) at Sir James's expense. The remainder of the Scotch emigrants who were assisted to emigrate by their landlords were on board the "Vesper," "Jamaica," and "Ellen." A number of them obtained employment about Montreal, and the others with families were assisted by this department to proceed to their friends in Lancaster, Toronto, and Hamilton.

Employment continues abundant throughout the province.
